I need a LinkedIn headline that stands out, attracts potential clients, and gets interview requests consistently.

Please follow these guidelines:

1. Clarify my role and expertise: Start with my current profession, making it more descriptive.
2. Display my experience: Mention years of experience in my role, sector, or a key skill set.
3. Showcase my value proposition: Communicate the unique value I bring by including 1-3 top skills or results I deliver.
4. Incorporate keywords: Use industry-specific keywords to boost search visibility on LinkedIn.
5. Keep it short & structured: Use vertical bars (|) to separate elements for clarity.
6. Maximize LinkedIn's character limit wisely while keeping it concise.

To personalize my headline, ask me the following questions:

What is my current role or profession?

How many years of relevant experience do I have?

What are 1-2 hard skills I'm best known for?

What specific industry do I work in?

Do I have any awards, recognitions, or achievements?

Have I worked with big brands, notable clients, or major companies?

How do I want my tone to come across? Professional, approachable, creative

Is there anything else I want to mention?

Once you have this information, craft a LinkedIn headline that:

Aligns with my professional goals

Highlights my authority & expertise

Guarantees I get booked consistently

Format Example: [Role/Title] | [Years of Experience] in [Industry or area of expertise] | [2-3 Key Skills] | [Notable Achievement, Brand Names or Personal branding statement]

Now, ask me the questions and generate my perfect LinkedIn headline!

I am a job seeker applying to marketing manager positions.

Your task is to analyze the 5 job descriptions I will paste below and identify the top 10 keywords that appear by frequency.

Clearly show the number of times that keyword appears in the 5 job descriptions (i.e. show a numerical value next to the keyword)

Here are the 5 job descriptions

◆ Prompt 1 — AIDA Framework (Attention → Interest → Desire → Action)

Use this prompt to generate a LinkedIn About section that reads like a powerful story and drives recruiter engagement.

Prompt (copy-paste):

[Start Prompt — AIDA]

Create a LinkedIn About section for me using the AIDA framework (Attention, Interest, Desire, Action).

Follow these rules:

ATTENTION

- Start with a bold, scroll-stopping opening line.
- You may use 1 emoji at the start to draw attention.
- Highlight my core role and strongest value in one punchy sentence.

INTEREST

- Summarize my experience, industries I've worked in, and the key technical skills I bring.
- Include industry-specific keywords recruiters would search for.
- Mention tools, systems, software, and job titles related to my field.

DESIRE

- Highlight quantifiable achievements, certifications, or specific wins that make me stand out.
- Show the impact I've created and why I'd be valuable to a future employer.

ACTION

- End with a clear CTA that tells recruiters what to do next (connect, message, email, etc.).
- If appropriate, state that I am open to relevant opportunities.

Before writing, ask me these questions:

1. What is your current role/title?
2. How many years of experience do you have?
3. Which industries have you worked in?
4. What technical skills and tools do you use?
5. What achievements or metrics can we highlight?
6. What roles are you targeting now?
7. What tone do you prefer (professional / friendly / bold)?

Then, write the About section in a compelling, keyword-rich, story-driven style.

[End Prompt — AIDA]

◆ Prompt 2 — PAS Framework (Problem → Agitate → Solution)

Use this when you want your About section to focus on problems in your industry and position yourself as the solution.

Prompt (copy–paste):

[Start Prompt — PAS]

Create a LinkedIn About section using the PAS framework (Problem, Agitate, Solution). Follow these instructions:

PROBLEM:

- Identify major challenges in my industry or the roles I target.
- Mention the common issues companies face when hiring someone in my field.

AGITATE:

- Expand on why these problems matter.

- Highlight the consequences companies face when they hire the wrong person or lack this expertise.

SOLUTION:

- Position me as the solution.
- Showcase my skills, experience, achievements, technical tools, and measurable results.
- Use industry-specific keywords that recruiters search for.

Finally, add a Call to Action inviting recruiters or hiring managers to reach out.

Before writing, ask me:

1. What industry are you in?
2. What typical problems does your industry struggle with?
3. What skills/tools do you use to solve those problems?
4. What measurable accomplishments can we highlight?
5. What roles are you targeting?
6. What tone do you prefer (professional / friendly / bold)?

Write the final section clearly, concisely, and keyword-optimized.

[End Prompt — PAS]

◆ Prompt 3 — Pain → Solution → CTA Framework

Perfect for a job seeker who wants to directly address employer pain points and show they are the fix.

Prompt (copy-paste):

[Start Prompt — Pain–Solution–CTA]

Write a LinkedIn About section using the Pain → Solution → CTA framework.

PAIN:

- Identify the top frustrations or pain points employers face in the roles I target (missing deadlines, poor communication, lack of technical skills, low productivity, etc.).
- Mention terms hiring managers actually search for.

SOLUTION:

- Show how my skills, experience, achievements, certifications, and tools solve those pain points.
- Include quantifiable results when possible.
- Integrate relevant keywords and industry terminology for search optimization.

CALL TO ACTION:

- End with a direct CTA telling readers to connect, reach out, or contact me.
- If relevant, mention that I am open to specific opportunities.

Ask me the following before writing:

1. What is your role and what roles are you targeting?
2. What employer pain points can you solve?
3. What skills, tools, and technologies do you specialize in?
4. What results or metrics can we showcase?
5. What industries have you worked in?
6. What tone do you prefer for your About section?

Write the final About section in a confident, impact-focused, keyword-optimized style.

[End Prompt — Pain–Solution–CTA]
